
Canadian author Wanda St.Hilaire has a penchant and passion for all things Latin. After a diagnosis of breast cancer in 2010, she decided that life is too short not to do what you love, where you love. She is currently living in Puerto Vallarta for the winter to write her next travel memoir and escape the frozen landscapes of Calgary, Alberta.